Supporting Youth Homelessness Initiatives

Cardea is proud to highlight our ongoing work supporting efforts to address youth homelessness in Washington State.

Agencies in King and Snohomish Counties have been recognized as national leaders for innovative public-private partnerships to address youth homelessness. Cardea has partnered with these agencies on a variety of assessments that are shaping both program and policy related to youth homelessness prevention and supportive services. Our partners include YouthCare, Friends of Youth, Auburn Youth Resources, Cocoon House, local government, and private foundations.

Most recently, Cardea worked with partners on the Street Outreach Program Learning Lab, an effort to improve and standardize data collection during street outreach and drop-in services. Our assessment work has enabled youth-serving agencies to better articulate the value and impact of their programs to key stakeholders.
